Empty Repo and Existing project:

1. Create Repo on github.com

2. Configure your pc to connect with github.com

    a. git config –global user.name “your github username”
    b. git config –global user.email “your github email”
3. go to your existing project and open cmd on that, you want to push on github.com
    a. git init
    b. git remote add origin https://github.com/yourname/repo-name
    c. git add .
    d. git commit –m “messages”
    e. git branch –M main
    f. git push –u origin main (for the first time)
    g. complete authorization part……
    h. git push

Existing repo cloning:

4. Copy the repo path and clone the repo in your computer by using comman
    a. git clone https://github.com/shm223/new-repo
    b. git pull
    c. change code then
    d. git add .
    e. git commit –m “messages”
    f. git push..